This tape holds the complete collection of all 36 games presented to #CPCRetroDev 2015, the 3rd edition of the Retro Game Development Contest of the University of Alicante. All games included have been developed and tested on Amstrad CPC 464. All games are published in digital format, along with their instructions, history, development details and source code in <http://cpcretrodev.bytereadms.com>. There you will also find addresses to contact authors of any of the presented games.

On behalf of ByteRealms and the University of Alicante, we want to thank you for buying this tape. All money got from selling this production directly goes to next contest editions. By buying physical editions of the games you are contributing with #CPCRetroDev and with present and future Amstrad CPC developers. Our deepest and most sincere gratitude to you, for your collaboration. We hope you enjoy present and future games developed for Amstrad CPC.

We also want to thank next parties for helping in making #CPCRetroDev 2015 a successful contest:
